This song is the American black spiritual and it was recorded during the Civil War on Saint Helena Island one of South Carolina states. Then 1867 it was published in "Songs of the United States slaves" first. This song was sung by former slaves who left the island before the navy blocked.

Michael Row the Boat Ashore

Negro spiritual

Michael, row the boat ashore, Halleluja.

Michael, row the boat ashore, Halleluja.

Sister help to trim the sail, Halleluja

Sister help to trim the sail, Halleluja.

Jordan's river is deep and wide, Halleluja

Meet my mother on the other side, Halleluja.

Jordan's river is chilly and cold, Halleluja

Chills the body but not the soul, Halleluja.

Michael, row the boat ashore, Halleluja
